

Campaign conducted by the All-Year Club to exploit the advantages of Southern California have been strongly praised by Max C. Fleischmann, chairman of the board of Fleischmann's Food Stores of New York. Internationally known in the business world.

Yesterday at the All-Year Club headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce Building it was said that Mr. Fleischmann is contemplating spending a great part of his time on his estates in Santa Barbara, where he is constructing a private polo field.

"In my opinion the All-Year Club of Southern California is doing a most meritorious work," said Mr. Fleischmann. "The club is doing a most meritorious work in the beautiful and beautiful advantages of Southern California and in promoting a sane development in a sane manner," said Mr. Fleischmann.

"This type of promotion is of great benefit to the high-society variety. As long as the All-Year Club continues along the line of its present policies I feel that it deserves support."

The All-Year Club for the last three weeks has been conducting an annual campaign for funds for the advertising budget to be spent in leading magazines and newspapers of the nation to show the attractions of Southern California.

Groups of prominent business men have been co-operating in the drive the most successful in the history of the organization, headed by former Senator William C. Clegg of the executive committee. The campaign committee is functioning under the direction of Victor Clegg.

WILL ROGERS Remarks:

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) June 15.—(To the Editor of The Times:—) Well, it's over here. That's one thing about these Republicans, they don't allow things to slip up. I been telling you for days that Curtis would be the one. He is a Kaw Indian and me a Cherokee and I am for him. 'Tis the first time we have ever got a break, the only American that has ever run for that high office. Watch your campaign, he America as typified by the West or America as typified by the eastern immigration. So, hurrah for you, Charlie, a real two-fisted bird who used to be a cowboy. Come on in if you are elected. Let's run the white people out of this country. On to Houston to the biggest show on earth.

Yours, WILL.

P. S.—Kansas City, you did yourself proud, it's Oklahoma that supports you and makes you a city, but I didn't hear a complaint about you. Of course, the show at times was terrific, but no show can be better than the east.

CANDIDATE CAUTIOUS

Hoover Refuses to Tell Plans

Nominee Awaits Leaders of Party Before Naming His Campaign Manager

Resignation Date in Doubt;
Selection of National Chairman Pondered

WASHINGTON, June 15. (Exclusive)—The "business as usual" sign hung outside Secretary Hoover's office today but inside behind the closed door the Republican Presidential nominee already was giving attention to plans for the coming campaign. He was on the telephone a good part of the day talking with his advisers at Kansas City. Presumably the conversations related largely to the selection of a chairman of the Republican National Committee. But it is understood that formal action on filling this post has been deferred until the committee meets here in Washington next Tuesday.

The members of the committee are to assemble here to greet Mr. Hoover and, more important, obtain word of his preference on the selection of a national chairman and campaign manager. It goes without saying that his wishes will be followed in the matter, and it will not be surprising to observers here if the post goes to former Representative James W. Good of Iowa and Chicago, the generalissimo of the Hoover campaign campaign.

No authoritative statement was forthcoming on this or any other matter pertaining to the campaign, says that Mr. Hoover did announce through George Akeron, one of his secretaries, that for the time being he will stick on the job as Secretary of Commerce, thus spiking rumors that he will resign immediately.

For the present, said the anonymous source, "Mr. Hoover will remain as Secretary of Commerce and he will continue his duties as he always has done."

The only hint of previous statements by associates of Mr. Hoover that he will go slow on making public announcements of his plans and will wait for conferences with party leaders, who will be coming on within the next few days from Kansas City.

From a candidate, Mr. Hoover, as a candidate, will rival President Coolidge for caution in the matter of public statements.

Selection of a national chairman came the absorbing topic in Washington as the Kansas City convention completed its labors with the nomination of Senator Curtis of Rhode Island as Vice-President.

Indicating this choice is eminently satisfactory to Secretary Hoover, who while represented in Kansas City dispatched his favored Representative Tilton, actually wanted to leave the matter entirely to the judgment of the convention.

Observers here, generally, view Curtis's nomination as an admirable move particularly from the standpoint of geography and the Midwest, farm belt. It will be the first time in history that the Republican Party has not had an eastern man on the ticket.

MEANING OF AMERICA
My whole life has taught me what America means. I am indebted to my country beyond any human power to repay. It conferred upon me the mission to administer America's response to the appeal of afflicted nations during the war. It has called me into two Cabinets of the United States. By these responsibilities I have observed the burdens and responsibilities of the greatest office in the world. That office teaches the happiness of every home. It deals with the peace of nations. No man could think of it except in terms of solemn consecration.

But the problems of the next four years are more than economic. In a profound sense they are moral and spiritual.

SCOTT FIELD, BELLEFIELD (Ill.) June 15. The dirigible, a "C" type, 210 feet long, carried a crew of six men in command of Lieut. Edward H. White.

HOOVER PLEDGES FARM AID IN MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, June 15. (P)—Secretary Hoover today sent the following message to George H. Moses, chairman of the Republican National Convention at Kansas City:

I have your telegram and I sincerely appreciate the confidence which the party has shown in me and the honor bestowed upon me.

You convey too great a compliment when you say I have earned the right to the Presidential nomination. No man can establish an obligation upon any part of the American people. My country owes me no debt. I gave me, as it gives every boy and girl, a chance. It gave me schooling, independence of action, opportunity for service and honor. In no other land could a boy from a country village, without inheritance or influential friends, look forward with unbounded hope.

CURTIS NOMINATION HELD PROMOTIVE OF HARMONY

Senator's Record on Farm Needs
Supplements Good Effect of Hoover Message

BY KYLE D. PALMER
Times Staff Representative

KANSAS CITY, June 15. (Exclusive)—By the overwhelming vote of 1052 to 34 the Republican National Convention today nominated Senator Curtis of Kansas for Vice-President to run with Secretary Hoover in the fall campaign. Having done that, the convention adjourned in high good humor and with party harmony restored. For the first time in the nation's history the West and the Middle West join in presenting a Republican Presidential ticket to the country.

Senator Curtis, whose nomination for Vice-President came dramatically after several other contenders had first been nominated and then withdrawn at their own request, retaining his seat in the Senate during the short session of Congress and continue as the majority floor leader. He will resign, in the event of Republican success next November, in time to take the Vice-Presidential oath of office March 4, 1929.

DELEGATES HAPPY
As the weary delegates began a general exodus from the Missouri metropolis, there were few who failed to express hearty approval of the combination of Hoover of California and Curtis of Kansas.

Hoover to the convention accepting the nomination for President not only inspired partisan enthusiasm and applause, but upon further scrutiny was regarded as a strong and straightforward shoudering of responsibility for the party and the leadership expected of him.

Selection of Curtis on the Hoover ticket seems to have been actually a stroke of political genius, not only from the standpoint of the disgruntled element among the farmers, but as a means of placating groups and leaders in the party not hitherto willing to express enthusiastic determination to work for the Republican cause.

CURTIS'S RECORD
Mr. Curtis joined in supporting the McNary-Haugen bill but stayed with the administration forces voting to sustain the President's veto of that measure. He backed the fight for the soldiers' bonus and personally popular with his senatorial colleagues.

A dramatic and moving feature of the formalities preceding his selection was a nominating speech delivered by his daughter, Mrs. Leona Curtis Knight, who was a delegate from Rhode Island.

Although allowed, under the convention rules, to make a brief speech, Mrs. Knight, speaking in a firm, clear voice, said: "I have been requested by the Rhode Island delegation to accept the nomination of my father, Senator Curtis of Kansas." She retired from the stage amid cheers and the waving of flags.

OTHER NOMINATIONS
In addition to Curtis, those placed in nomination and later withdrawn included Representative Tilton of Connecticut, Republican floor leader in the House; Gov. Fuller of Massachusetts; Former Gov. Osborn of Michigan; Gov. Baker of Missouri.

On the roll call of States the vote stood: Curtis, 1052; Vice-President, 34. The only States not solidly in the Curtis column were the roll call "were Minnesota, which gave Daws 3; North Dakota, which gave Kern 6; South Dakota, which gave Kern 6; Nebraska, which split its vote among Stanford MacNider, 2; Kern, 13, and Curtis 8, with three not voting.

Within a few minutes after the Vice-Presidential nomination had been determined, the following telegraphic exchange occurred between Kansas City and Washington:

"Hon. Herbert Hoover,
"Department of Commerce,
Washington, D. C.
"Please accept my congratulations on your nomination. I will

BY WILL ROGERS
(Copyright, 1928, by McNaught Syndicate)

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) June 15. (Exclusive)—She is all over, Hoover and Curtis. What have I been telling you for days about Curtis. I knew he was a cinch for that.

The Republican party owed him something, but I didn't think they would be so low down as to pay him that way.

He used to be floorwalker of the Republican party on the Senate floor. Now he'll be timekeeper.

Everybody at the convention who was long as he lives. And then we wanted the job ourselves voted for would not be even with him. There hasn't been a one that could make an impromptu prayer.

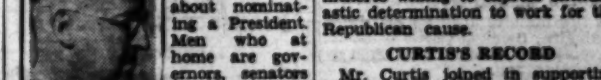

Another preacher prayed this morning and had to read his prayer. There hasn't been a one that could make an impromptu prayer.

This one was a Methodist and he wanted on "to look to the hills for wisdom," and here we went and nominated Charley Curtis from the plains of Kansas where a five-foot ash heap would constitute a predicament.

This preacher prayed for Plymouth Rock. Lord, it's Boulder that we need. (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

VICE-PRESIDENT NOMINEE

Will Hold Early Conference to May Program

KANSAS CITY, June 15. (AP)—Plans for an early conference with Herbert Hoover and the Republican National Committee were made by Senator Curtis today immediately after he had been elected as the party nominee for the Vice-Presidency. After expressing appreciation for the honor, the Kansan said:

"I greatly appreciate the high honor which has been conferred upon me. I came to Kansas City hoping to receive the nomination for the Presidency. My friends made a gallant fight for me and remained loyal until the last and I cannot find words sufficient to express my gratitude to them. When the result was announced, I gladly bowed to the will of the majority and was ready to begin work for the success of the nominee, Secretary Hoover. I was not a candidate for Vice-President and did not seek the nomination but it is gratifying indeed to have been nominated in this great convention and I am thankful to the delegates for their expression of confidence in me."

THANKFUL FOR HONOR
"In 1924 I was pleased indeed to be able to bring the majority leadership of the United States Senate to the Central West and had hoped to bring the nominee of our party for the Presidency to our section of this great country, but failing in that, I am happy to have the convention give the nomination to the Vice-Presidency to my native State—Kansas. I believe in settling all our party disagreements in our party convention and when the delegates have expressed their will, I feel it necessary to join with others and do everything possible for the success of our ticket."

"I am indeed thankful for the great honor conferred upon me and shall have a talk with Secretary Hoover and members of the national committee at the first opportunity and help to formulate a plan for the great campaign which is before us. I feel certain that with the splendid record of the Republican administration under the wise leadership of President Coolidge and with such an able and experienced man as Secretary Hoover at the head of our ticket our party will be successful in November."

GETS HOUSING OVATION

A few minutes after he had been nominated, Senator Curtis came to the convention hall and was given a rousing ovation. Stopped by the police, who barred his entrance to the hall until he had explained to them satisfactorily why he was seeking to get in without a ticket, the Vice-Presidential nominee appeared at a side entrance just as the convention was winding up its affairs by appointing some routine committees. He immediately was escorted to the speakers' platform, and the delegates roared and cheered again, as he was escorted to the edge of the stage and presented by Chairman Moses as the "next Vice-President of the United States."

In a short speech Curtis then thanked the convention and pledged his best efforts in the campaign ahead.

CONFIDENCE OF SUCCESS

"Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Convention," he said. "I want to thank you each and every one for the bottom of my heart for the great honor you have placed upon me and upon the great State of Kansas. It was my great pleasure in 1924 to bring to the West for the first time the majority leadership of the United States Senate."

"I came here a week ago not only hoping, but believing and desiring to bring to the West for the first time the majority leadership of the United States Senate."

"I am certain that with the splendid record of the Republican party that has today under the leadership of that great President, Calvin Coolidge, and with that great and experienced Secretary, Mr. Hoover, at the head of our ticket we will be successful in November. I thank you all."

Sturdy Manhood Results in His Selection

KANSAS CITY (Mo.), June 15. (AP)—From blanket Indian to Vice-President will be the romantic career of Charles Curtis, elected in November. Plain Charles Curtis, "Charlie," who took this convention by storm because it recognized his sturdy manhood drawn from the blood of his Kaw Indian forebears and the fire and daring of his French-Canadian-American sire. In obtaining the Republican endorsement for Vice-President he brushed aside that of President and still was in the race when the contenders came down the home stretch. Racing is nothing new to Charles Curtis. He loved the game and still was in the race when the contenders came down the home stretch. He earned his first real salary as a jockey. He was the Earl Sande of the West in the '70s and if Curtis would abandon dignity and talk the language of other days, he probably would say: "I was in the money."

Today Charles Curtis is not thinking of what he has accomplished. His mind has harked back to a moonlight night on the plains of Kansas when his wrinkled old Indian grandmother, Julie Poppin, crawled to this mere lad's side around the Indian camp fire.

"Go back to your white ancestors, my boy," she implored.

For Charles Curtis had fled from his father's relatives in Topeka and his fight for the Presidential nomination and the party ticket in November.

"I wish you to know how greatly I welcome your nomination and your co-operation in the task we have before us. The party is to be congratulated on your selection."

"HERBERT HOOVER"

CURTIS ACCLAIMED

Senator Curtis, who came to Kansas City several days ago to discuss his fight for the Presidential nomination, was given a warm demonstration when he was escorted down a long lane of eagerly outstretched hands to the speaker's stage.

He spoke briefly in appreciation of the honor conferred upon him, paid tribute to Hoover as the new leader of the party and retired, leaving by automobile a few minutes later for his home at Topeka, where an impromptu reception by his friends and neighbors awaited him.

The Republican nominees are expected to meet soon in Washington to confer on the details of the general election campaign.

The morning session of the convention preceding the election of Curtis was enlivened by a few hot contests in the election of members of the Republican National Committee. In some of the disputes among southern State delegates the intervention of the delegates was demanded by the general election campaign.

BITTER RETIRES
With no diminution of the party's allegiance to President Coolidge, the new organization of the Republican party in the hands of the delegates and supporters of Secretary Hoover, Chairman William M. Butler of the national committee retired today.

His successor will be a Hoover, chief.

Senator Borah of Idaho, who has been one of Hoover's backers, and who shared much of the responsibility for ironing out differences among those drafting the Republican platform, retired today.

His successor will be a Hoover, chief.

Among those seconding the Curtis nomination was the satisfaction of all who were assured the delegates that there are more Kansans in Los Angeles county than in any single city in Kansas and who drew noisy approval when he predicted that the Hoover-Curtis ticket in November will make the Tammany tiger resemble a sleeping Texas prairie dog.

MELLON FLIES
The convention got a view of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today, when the Treasury head came to the platform to present a resolution naming Senator Moses as chairman of the committee to notify Mr. Hoover of his nomination but Mr. Mellon declined to address the delegates and hurried back to the convention floor. In a man of less prominence the suspicion might have arisen that he was suffering from stage fright.

Chairman Moses polished off the closing hours of the big convocation in a happy and enthusiastic manner. He presented motions, called for aye and no votes and announced results almost in the same breath and in the great amusement and approval of the delegates.

WINS PLAUDITS
The Senator from New Hampshire in fact covered himself with glory as a presiding officer, his unfailing good nature and fairness, his facility in stating questions briefly and accurately and his consistent success in maintaining order and discipline winning for him the approval of the entire convention.

Except for the desire of party leaders to name a strong candidate in the Middle West it is thought that the Vice-Presidential nomination would have gone either to Moses or Tilson of Connecticut.

CHARM ADDED TO CONVENTION

Curtis's Daughter Captivated Harry Carr

Her Shy Smile and Naivete Pleased Him

Mellon's Confusion Before Grand Amuses

signaled him to come to the platform. The bored audience suddenly came to life.

To tell the truth, the strident man walked up the flight of stairs as though he were on a way to the gallows; without a backward glance.

It is no tribute to Mellon to say that he is one of the most able men who have ever held office in the United States government. He is just a fact. He ranks high as one of the few really great minds who have ever held political jobs.

This being so, it was charming and appealing to see that he was simply scared into a blue funk. He had the resolution written on his face of yellow paper; but his hand shook so he could not read it. The chairman tried to turn him around to the loud speaker; but Mellon could not bring himself to face the crowd. He stood cowering in frozen terror at the chairman's and suffered his motion into that worthy's ears.

SPOTLIGHT FINDS HIM

As the chairman took the resolution from him Mellon tried to slip away into the group standing on the platform; but to his dismay a glare of light in the gallery hit him in a ten-inch shell. He tried to smile deeper into the crowd; but he followed him, for the benefit of the film cameras, with pitiful accuracy. He gave one wild look back over his shoulder into the beam of light and hastily left the platform, stiff and abashed, with the child steel bashfulness of a schoolman.

And the crowd yelled; and went him for it; just as an American crowd always loves any man who has the goods and does things instead of talking about them.

At the end, a plump old gentleman, dusky of complexion and with sharp keen eyes, came into the convention hall, escorted by a boy of admirers. It was Curtis, who had been nominated only a minute before.

He made a little speech in front of the loud speakers and I felt him for the speech. They were more of pathos in it than triumph.

CURTIS PERFECTLY FRANK

He did not make any pretense that his heart was leaping with joy over the fact that he had come to Kansas City fully expecting to be nominated as President; and is going home as the nominee for Vice-President.

He was perfectly frank in his disappointment; but thanked the men who have stuck by him so frankly, and said with commendable grace and sense that at least shows the Republican party that the men of the Middle West will stand loyally by their candidate.

Everything in his demeanor showed him as a sturdy, sensible old Kansan.

He is recognized as a wonderfully strong candidate to be elected by the farmers and the men of the American Legion; and, as the majority leader of the Senate, is a power in the party.

But I shall have to content with his daughter's speech. I would be for him if he were a poor, working with the blood of soldiers and orphan children.

Yes; I liked her speech first and last.

Republicans Plan to Wage Presidential Campaign on Record as Party of Performance

CURTIS LIKELY WILL LEAD IN STUMPING FOR PARTY

Hoover Expected to Conduct Front Porch Appeals to Voters After Notification in California

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) June 15. (P)—With its campaign designed to win votes for President and Vice-President, the Republican party will enter the battle of 1928, planning largely to rest on a record of accomplishments behind them, the Republicans today declared.

The interpretation placed on the election today of Curtis is that of a man who has extraordinary powers of platform magnetism and who will be relied upon to lead the party in the doubtful states.

WAIT ON HOUSTON

Much depends on the shaping up of Republican campaign plans on the outcome of the Houston convention. If Smith is nominated by the Democrats, his opposition expects a whirlwind campaign by the New York Governor. That in itself probably would prove the incentive to Curtis to cover much more ground in his travels than he would if swings-around-the-circle were no longer undertaken by Presidential and Vice-Presidential nominees.

Before final adjournment the national convention named Senator Moses of New Hampshire as head of the official committee which will notify Mr. Hoover of his nomination for President. Senator Fess of Ohio was selected as chairman of the committee formally to notify Senator Curtis of his Vice-Presidential nomination.

On each delegation will be a representative for every State and Territory. The dates for the notification ceremonies will be determined later.

THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE today named a special committee headed by Ralph Williams of Oregon to consult Secretary Hoover next Thursday in Washington on the selection of permanent officers of the organization.

SEVERAL IN LINE

Until Mr. Hoover indicates his wishes concerning the national chairman this position will be left open with several prospective men in line, including Secretary Work, James W. Good, Claudius Houston, Walter F. Brown, Ralph Williams and Chairman Butler.

The special committee of twenty-six named today was entrusted with full power to name the permanent officers, including three vice-chairmen, a secretary, treasurer and executive committee of fifteen.

The two contests referred to the committee against the committeemen from Wisconsin and the committeemen from Georgia were turned over to the executive committee.

Ralph Williams presided over the first meeting of the new committee today as temporary chairman, and James W. Good, Secretary of Pennsylvania was named temporary secretary.

The meeting with Hoover will be in the New Willard Hotel next Thursday at noon. The committee will then adjourn.

Mrs. Coolidge associated herself with Mr. Coolidge's greetings, telegraphing: "The President and I send you and yours our love and best wishes."

COOLIDGE TELEGRAM FIRST TO BE ANSWERED

my greatest hope is that it will continue to sustain me in this new task. Your high sense of duty and your devotion to public service will always be for me an inspiration. (Signed) HERBERT HOOVER."

Arizona Sees Hoover at Last

KANSAS CITY, June 15. (P)—A handful of Arizonans who had stuck to their guns and fought to the last for Lowden as the Republican Presidential nominee found themselves as isolated as the Lost Battalion in the World War following last night's session of the convention.

Throughout a strenuous week of campaigning here they had resisted a long series of attacks on their unity for the former Illinois Governor, and they carried to the convention floor last night the same fixed purpose of casting their all, nine votes, for Lowden.

Like a depth charge exploded beneath them, they heard Lowden's name withdrawn from the race. A hurried caucus was held where they sat and when the roll was called Arizona dropped solidly into the Hoover camp.

G.O.P. GIVES NEW HOPES TO WOMEN

New Equal-Rights Drive Planned as Smoot Calls Party Pledge No Gesture

KANSAS CITY, June 15. (P)—When the Republican party, in its platform, accepted "wholeheartedly, equality on the part of women," Senator Smoot, chairman of the resolutions committee, told women's national party representatives today, it was not "merely a gesture," as they had suggested, but a real recognition of "equality in everything." The women now plan to use this statement in a new drive for their equal-rights constitutional amendment.

"On the basis of this declaration for equality in the national platform, women will expect the Republican party to put its power behind the equal-rights amendment now before Congress, which will put women on an equal plane with men in the laws," Mrs. Anne Clement, Rotter of Milwaukee, a member of the women's party delegation to the convention, said in a statement.

Senator Smoot was noised of the women's stand in a letter sent him by Mrs. Rotter, in which she also thanked "the Republican party for the courtesy and attention which we have received from every delegate whom we have approached."

Mellon Forced on Rostrum to Take Ovation

KANSAS CITY, June 15. (P)—Secretary Mellon, head of the Treasury Department and of Pennsylvania's Keystone delegation was given an unusual personal tribute today, when he mounted the platform just as the convention was adjourning to submit by prearrangement the routine resolution for notifying the Presidential and Vice-Presidential nominees.

The almost bashful Secretary tried at first to send the written resolution up by messenger from his seat in the front row, but delegates and galleries saw him standing and yelled, "Send him up." Everybody stood and cheered as he appeared beside Senator Moses on the platform and handed over to the clerk the scrap of paper on which his motion had been typed.

Convention officials joined in the ovation making no effort to restore order until the crowd had spent its enthusiasm.

HULL OF TENNESSEE TO QUIT COMMITTEE

CARTHAGE (Tenn.) June 15. (P)—Cordell Hull, Tennessee's member of the Democratic National Committee, announced today that he will retire when his term expires during the approaching convention at Houston, Tex.

Tokio, Japan, has a population of nearly 2,000,000, according to a recent official estimate.

This Is What Runnymede Is Doing for Mr. Thomas

M R. THOMAS has 500 hens working for him at Runnymede. He acquired them some months ago under the new Runnymede income plan for non-resident owners.

These hens are housed at the big central plant at Runnymede and cared for by the Runnymede expert poultrymen. His eggs are sold for "spot" cash and once a month Mr. Thomas receives a check for the profits which his hens are making for him.

$337.48 in Five Months

During the first five months of this year, Mr. Thomas' hens made a NET profit of $337.48 or an average of $67.49 per month, therefore Mr. Thomas has been receiving an unusually high return on the money he invested.

Not only is Mr. Thomas enjoying a most attractive monthly income, but he is building for the future. He is creating a splendid estate for his later days and a lasting heritage for posterity through the land he owns as a part of the new Runnymede plan.

Mr. Thomas has ten years to pay for his estate—he has a ten years' enhancement in the value of his land before he is finished with his deal. His property is in the San Fernando Valley—the garden section of Los Angeles, where the second million of population will live.

How Values Have Grown

During the past few years land values in this dynamic section of Los Angeles have increased at the rate of 25% a year. If values here should increase only 10% a year for the next ten years while Mr. Thomas is paying for his estate, how will he be sitting? He will be sitting just like hundreds of other Runnymeders—just like you can be if you follow Mr. Thomas' example—on top of the world.

Figure it out for yourself what a 10% increase of value in a tract of land amounts to in ten years. Add to this an income of say only $20 a month for 120 months (10 years) from a flock of hens. Add these two items together and then honestly ask yourself if you can afford to neglect putting yourself in a position to cash in on this opportunity.

The growth of the Runnymede central poultry plant in less than a year from 500 birds to more than 65,000 birds (the largest poultry plant in the world) is due to the fact that it "delivers the goods." Runnymede proves by actual performance—the payment of real money each month to its large family of owners—that it knows how to make profits from White Leghorn Hens.

PILGRIMS CLOSE CHURCH PARLEY

Kellogg Plan to Outlaw War Given Praise

Coolidge Message Commends Visit of English

NEW YORK, June 15. (AP)—With a plea for greater co-operation between English-speaking peoples, the 1233 visiting British Congregationalists concluded their pilgrimage to America tonight at a banquet attended by more than 3000 church members from the two countries.

The British party leaves tomorrow for England on a White Star liner named the Twentieth Century Mayflower for the voyage.

Rev. Parkes Cadman, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, in an address advocated acceptance of Secretary of State Kellogg's plan to outlaw war.

The common interests of the nations we represent," he said, "are best served by the proposal of Secretary Kellogg for the renunciation and outlawry of war. We are glad to observe the hearty support given by His Britannic Majesty's government to this epoch-making overture."

Confident that the pilgrimage will strengthen the ties already existing between Great Britain and America," President Coolidge, in a message to the pilgrims said:

"Their visit to this country was a splendid thought. Harmonious relations among the various countries of the world depend in no slight degree upon spiritual, as well as material understanding. This can be obtained most completely through personal contacts, and the interchange of ideas and ideals. The student of religion finds most similarity in the fundamental ideals of various sects and denominations."

Latin-America Will Organize Labor Groups

GENEVA, June 15. (AP)—A project to create a special labor organization for Latin-America, including the associations of workers in Cuba and Mexico, was communicated officially to the international labor organization on the 15th.

The idea is to establish a permanent bureau at Buenos Aires and convene the first conference at Rio Janeiro. The Argentine workers' organization has been invited to extend invitations to all labor groups in Latin-America.

The originators of the project in a statement today emphasize that it is not directed against any existing labor organization on the American continent, and that it always will collaborate with the Geneva institution, but that it needs exists for Latin-American workers to discuss problems affecting their continent before coming to Geneva.

The labor conference today adopted the text of a convention outlining all ratifying countries to establish methods for fixing minimum wage rates—women to be treated on the same basis as men for work of equal quality.

Acquittal Plea in Fraud Case

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15. (Exclusive)—Defense attorneys in the Cromwell Simon asserted $100,000 bucket-shop fraud asked Federal Judge Lenderback for a directed verdict of acquittal for the four men now on trial as testimony in the case was completed late today.

The plea was taken under advisement with the announcement that a decision will be given upon it next Tuesday.

The four on trial are Harry Kander, Orton Goodwin, W. Randolph and Samuel H. Robinson. A fifth defendant, Cromwell Simon, president of the former company, fled, forfeiting his bond. He was not considered in today's request for a dismissal.

"Use of garage is free."

ROBBERS! YELL DELEGATES

Kansas City Hotels Act Like Highwaymen, Says Disgruntled California Group

BY HARRY CARR

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) June 15. (Exclusive)—In spite of all the kindness of the people of Kansas City the delegates are going home sore as a bull. They have been robbed by the Kansas City hotel keepers in a manner that would make a Chicago gunman blush for shame.

The California delegation years for the blood of William H. Crocker, the national committeeman who made the contracts for them; and then stayed somewhere else himself.

All the pre-convention arrangements were left to the estimable Crocker. He entered into a contract arrangement with the Aladdin Hotel binding on all the California delegates.

The regular rates of this hostelry are those of any second-rate hotel. Kansas City people tell us that in ordinary times you can rent two rooms with a kitchenette between the rooms for $3.50 per day total for the suite.

The Crocker contract with the hotel boosts the rates to Palm Beach prices. Two delegates occupying a single room with a mythical second bed are required to pay $16 per day. The rooms are so small that if you put in the second bed called for it along newly graveled roads oiled for the occasion, out into the open brushy country. There were few farms to be seen, only miles of second growth timber, streams and lakes. He made a special detour to pass the town of Brule. Here in a Superior, an arch of welcome had been built for him and all the population was out on the sidewalk.

White House Party Reaches North Woods Retreat

PRESIDENT AT SUMMER LODGE

From Brule the President turned up the river valley and soon reached the private road of the Pierce estate, which drops down from the highway, a narrow one-way road through timber which becomes taller and thicker as the lodge is approached.

E. M. Lambert superintendent of the estate, met him at the gates. Col. E. W. Starling, his advance aide was also there. He entered the inner gates and found a smooth wide lawn sloping down to the river and his new home.

The lodge, a one-story house covered with silver gray cedar bark, was all prepared. The porch was fitted with lounge and easy chair. It was fragrant with lilacs, quiet, save for the lapping of the river against the banks, a soft murmur of the wind in the trees.

The President had permitted newspaper men and photographers to accompany him to the door and new patiently waited the bidding of the camera men. After today they will not go past the lodge gates except by special invitation.

MEETS MRS. COOLIDGE
A few minutes later he saw Mrs. Coolidge getting out of her car and went over the bridge to escort her to the house.

She was accompanied by her nurse and by Col. Latrobe, the President's aide, and Col. J. F. Couper, her physician. Over the narrow little bridge, arm in arm, the President and his wife, came happily to the new home.

Coolidge clung to the tugging dog, which smelled all kinds of entrancing things in the water. More people and poses, by request, and then the official homecoming was over. They went into the little porch, behind the screens, the army mailed away and they were at rest in the woods.

An hour later, the President called for dining room and worms and went down to try his luck. He did not change his clothes and seemed to want to feel the rod and reel in the water and be quiet rather than do any serious fishing. After a little while at this, he went into the house for a nap. The dining room is across the bridge, in another cedar bark house. There is a spring here with a tin cup. Quarters for made servants are back of the dining room.

Army tents have been put up for the rest of the party, in a grassy field near-by lake. He may even go out into Lake Superior for the big lake trout now running. If he cares to try dry fly fishing, there are guides to instruct him.

A new kind of silk for parachutes has been developed by an American silk manufacturer, and is said to be stronger and safer than materials in use.

JEFF NACHELTY VOTIN
It just seems that whenever there wasn't anything else taking place in the convention, Mr. Benjamin Jefferson Davis, Mr. George Washington Beauregard Lee, or Mr. Alexander Hamilton Jones would pop up out there on the floor and start voting for or against something. Sometimes they would catch Senator Moses, the chairman of the convention, thinking about his sidekick, or whatever it is that an honorable Senator thinks about on a sticky day, and by the time he realized that the Georgia boys were having another vote for themselves he would have to pound the bar with his bungalow until he was high on splitting the same.

When the delegates went protesting to pay their bills today, the convention having ended, they discovered that by Mr. Crocker's work of business genius they have to pay for their rooms until Sunday whether they use them or not.

I have been to a lot of conventions, and have been stung at most of them by hotel keepers, but all the others were raw amateurs in comparison with the hotel men of Kansas City.

I understand now why there has been so little crime in Kansas City during the convention. The stick-up men and gangsters felt ashamed in their amateur crudeness when they came face to face with the finished gapers.

MOUGHTY BOTHE'SOME
It was on the roll calls that the Georgia statesmen seemed to have the most trouble about keeping their votes within bounds. The clerk would call the roll and the chairman of the other delegations,

WE-ALL SUAH LIKES VOTIN'

Jawjuns les' Natchelly Hev' to Do Right Smart 'Cause It's We-uns Only Chancel

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) June 15. (Exclusive)—It has been asserted that the colored Republican statesmen of the South are permitted to vote only once in four years and then only as delegates on the floor of the national convention.

The reason for this precaution on the part of the Caucasian Democrats of the South now begins to dawn upon the outsiders. It appears that when the colored brethren get started voting they carry the thing to excess and unless restrained one way or another are likely to over-vote themselves. I understand this is a weakness of Caucasian statesmen in certain localities, notably in some regions of Chicago and New York City, but it is a practice that cannot be too strongly condemned.

I did not realize the extent of this passion of the colored statesmen from the cotton rows and brakes and whicker-moss thickets to vote and vote and vote until the brothers of the Georgia delegation really got loosened up and started voting, free and easy, in the Kansas City convention. But now that it is over, I retain an impression that the down-yonder Republicans are great natural voters and that when they get really steaming on a proposition they are not only remarkable voters but great endurance voters as well. You might sum them up as great all-around, free-style voters, who would be a great asset to any campaign who didn't draw the color line.

"AH VOTES NO"
This would just explain it into a hot knot, so the clerk would get out the book and poll the Georgia statesmen, one by one. The poll would go along all right with some of the brethren voting for Herbert Hoover and some for Guv'nah L. J. Wenden until he would get down to Brother Hypotenuse Tallafiero, who would jump up and yell "Ah votes no!" which would confuse things considerably.

There was one time when one of the brethren got up for a moment merely to unstick himself from his chair and the Hon. Moses thought he was rising to raise some parliamentary point.

"For what purpose does the delegate rise?" the Hon. Moses inquired, and the quick-thinking statesman, taken by surprise that way, did the instinctive thing. His motto was "when in doubt, vote" and he yelled, "Ah votes for Hoover!"

ONLY CHANCY
In a way, I suppose, the Republican statesmen from the land of the kin and the kaint are not to be blamed for voting so fluently when they get the chance. If a man is permitted to go alone voting nonchalantly at ward, township, village, State and national elections, he takes his voting in his stride and it doesn't go to his head.

SOUTH AFRICA ACCEPTS PACT

Kellogg's Invitation to Join War Foes Favored

Reservations Embodied in Agreement Note

Secretary Undecided as to Next Step in Plans

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—The Union of South Africa accepted today the invitation of Secretary Kellogg to participate as an original signatory in the treaty for the renunciation of war and completed the list of official nations, including the United States, to signify willingness to enter into the compact.

Secretary Kellogg, who proposed the treaty last April, has been awaiting the acceptance by all of the countries before indicating what his next step in the negotiations will be. But he recently expressed himself as understanding as to the next move. It is expected, however, an announcement of the next phase of the negotiations will be made shortly, as exchanges on this question recently have carried on between the State Department and representative several participating foreign governments.

South Africa embodied in its acceptance reservations which include the repudiation of several other countries. They were that the proposed treaty would not deprive any party of the right of self-defense, that a violation by any one of the parties would free the remainder from the provisions of the treaty, and that South Africa's participation would not interfere with her other international obligations.

The note acceptance, signed by Gen. Hertzog, Minister of External Affairs of State for South Africa, said "that the Union of South Africa, as a member of the League of Nations, is prepared to accept the invitation of the United States to participate individually and as an original signatory in the treaty for the renunciation of war."

Highly appreciated, and that His Majesty's government in the Union of South Africa will gladly take part therein, as long as it is together with the other guests."

RUSSIAN CHANGE PLANS
It is understood that the powerful Russian spokesman Malignin will proceed to Kings Bay, but will not proceed directly to Gen. Nobles position, thus saving time.

The Russian ship, the Baganza, is on the way to North Cape to relieve the sealer Hobby. She will put a dog team ashore and it is believed that the chances are good of meeting the group of three, headed by Dr. Finn Malmgren, who started out on May 20, last, in the direction of North Cape. Dr. Malmgren is experienced in such travel and is considered capable in moving over ice fields.

The Baganza arrived at Brandy Bay this afternoon and reports that the weather in that vicinity is fine. It is hoped, therefore, that Capt. Ruiter-Larsen and Lieut. Holm, who have planned to meet the Hobby, may be able to make another scouting flight in search of the missing explorers, especially Dr. Malmgren.

Transportation Board Sees Good Times Ahead

Agriculturists Strong in Pacific Southwest

Railroads Prepare to Move Bounteous Crops

FRENO, June 15.—(Exclusive)—The transportation board here today predicted a bumper crop of agricultural products for the coming year, and prospects for the coming three months give promise of a more prosperous crop harvest and industrial and commercial activity than that of last year.

This substance is a cross-section of reports of two-score commodity committees of the Pacific Coast Transportation Advisory Board, at a quarterly meeting here today.

CROPS IN LEAD
Agriculture came in for perhaps the most attention, due to the fact that California is now on the eve of harvesting the most bountiful harvest of deciduous fruit and major field crops, which, with a few exceptions, holds promise of proving profitable to the growers and shippers.

Foremost among the crop forecasts were those on peaches and apples. The former, according to the California Agricultural Statistics of the State and Federal Departments of Agriculture, who said conditions now indicate a crop of approximately 300,000 tons, about 200,000 tons of which will be shipped.

This year's crop is estimated to be 15,000 tons more than last year's, and the surplus will be disposed of prior to the arrival of the new crop on the market, it was reported.

The cotton forecast, provided by Stanley Frost of Bakersfield, chairman of the cotton committee, showed an estimated average of 37,000 bales, compared with 35,000 bales last year.

Representatives of all the principal cotton-raising states in California said that they are making every effort to provide sufficient cotton to other lines as the means of assisting the movement and distribution of California perishable products, and that auction facilities be made available to all who seek to use them.

COTTON ESTIMATED
The forecast by districts, given by representatives of the cotton committee, is as follows:
Sacramento Valley, 7,000, 3,000; Central Valley, 12,000, 5,000; Imperial and Coachella, 30,000, 15,000; Palo Verde Valley, 20,000, 10,000; Tule Valley, 25,000, 12,000; Fresno Valley, 15,000, 7,000; Kern County, 10,000, 5,000; Arizona, 145,000, 100,000.

Offices at Bakersfield and Exeter Will Handle Grape Consignments

FRENO, June 15.—(Exclusive)—The establishment of district offices in Bakersfield and Exeter through which the 1928 grape-car distributing plan of the American Railway Association will be operated, beginning August 28, was announced here today by George A. Leithner of San Francisco, district manager of the car service division of the association.

The Bakersfield office will handle car-requirements estimates for Kern county, while that at Exeter is tentatively provided to handle Kings and Tulare county service. This territory having been administered by the Fresno office in 1926 and 1927. This office also covers Fresno and Madera counties.

The only change in the detail of operation of the plan, provided for the filing of car-requirements estimates on Tuesday, instead of on Monday as in 1927.

Lovers' Spat Leads Girl to Death's Door
Bakersfield, June 15.—(Exclusive)—A quarrel with her lover caused Miss Sarah Jane Forbes, 20-year-old graduate nurse of Long Beach, to swallow a quantity of strychnine which caused her death, according to deputy sheriffs who investigated the tragedy that had its beginning in Delano and ended in Bakersfield, where the young woman died in a doctor's office after attempts to save her life failed.

In the top of her handbag was a brief message, scrawled in pencil on a small piece of a magazine cover, which said "I love you." The note, officials at the sheriff's office believe, was intended for the man with whom she had quarreled.

Miss Forbes came to Kern county from Long Beach late in April, stayed a few days, and returned to the beach city. On May 29 she again went to Delano. Several days ago, according to Deputy Sheriff L. Lang, a quarrel followed her asserted refusal to accompany her to Canada. Since that time she had been despondent, the deputy was told.

Wednesday she tried to buy cyanide at a drug store in Delano, saying she wanted to kill a criminal dog at her Long Beach home. Her request was refused. The strychnine which she took was brought from Long Beach.

SCOUTS OPEN SEQUOIA CAMP

San Joaquin Valley Youths Take to Mountains

Indian Section Will Follow Primitive Routine

Five Hundred Boys Expected During Summer Season

OEN. GRANT NATIONAL PARK, June 15.—(Exclusive)—Everything is in readiness for opening of the new camp, Sequoia, at Sequoia Lake and 100 Boy Scouts of Tulare, Kings, Fresno and Madera counties will arrive for the first period of the Scout camp tomorrow. Other camps will be conducted throughout the summer and it is expected that between 400 and 500 Scouts will be in attendance this season.

MANY NEW IDEAS
The camp is an innovation in camping for proper Scouts. It is ideally located and adequately equipped. The name, Sequoia, is Indian for summering, and the Scouts have written a song around the name. As the boys arrive they will be issued camp caps, Scout models with a large "O" on the side, and "28" inside the "O." Neckerchiefs of the same color also form part of the official camp uniform.

"Safety and Health" is the slogan of the camp. Sanitary and health conditions will be maintained at all times. The camp is a place of instruction. Waterfront activities will be especially stressed in the section known as the training camp. A large swimming pool will be constructed and a special crib is installed for beginners. Special life-saving equipment will be secured and instructions given in their use. Regular American Red Cross life-saving work will also be given. The water front section will be under supervision of Field Scout Executive E. A. Thompson.

WOODCRAFT TAUGHT
The honor belt will be a new feature of the camp this year, being presented to every qualifying Scout. The belt will be made of leather and woodcraft will be taught under instruction of Field Scout Executive J. W. Wright. TREATIES HELD SOLE DAM HOPE

Waterworks Association Ends Session

Angeleno Predicts Federal River Action

Business Regime Forecast Under Hoover

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—(Exclusive)—Interstate treaties among those on non-navigable waters affected by the only successful means of settling the Colorado River and Boulder dam controversy before the closing sessions today of the American waterworks association and the waterworks manufacturers' association. The speakers were Delph E. Carpenter, interstate river commissioner of Colorado, and Ralph I. Meeker, Denver engineer.

Such compact are absolutely necessary to make available large groups of waterworks in various parts of the country which are being wasted so far as potentialities are concerned because anywhere from three to eight states have legal rights on them, it was stated.

States possess the powers to solve such problems. Carpenter and Meeker said. "To turn over such matters for solution to the United States government and its projected bureau is not only beneath the dignity of the states but the suggestion smacks too much of the wine of defeat."

The paper evoked warm discussion. L. M. Anderson of Los Angeles asserted that the people of Southern California merely are asking for the use of water rights to waste and expect the Federal government to settle the controversy through Congress.

President James E. Gibson ended the discussion by declaring that with "Hoover as the next President, Congress may be impressed with the necessity of giving the country a business administration instead of the political game as heretofore."

WAR ON RADIO OUTLAWS NEAR

Motorized Test Apparatus Arrives on Coast

Will Go on Tour Seeking Unlicensed Stations

District Officers to Put Car Into Action

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—(Exclusive)—War on Pacific Coast violators of radio laws is imminent. The means heretofore accomplished arrived here today in the form of an elaborately equipped automobile which will be used to cruise about the State testing frequency bands and seeking out unlicensed broadcasters.

A. W. Edwards, radio supervisor for the district centering at Detroit, who designed the apparatus, and J. E. Brown, his assistant, accompanied the car to this city to turn it over to Bernard Linden, radio supervisor for the fifth district, and his chief inspector, Edwin W. Lovejoy. Together, the four will start south on a testing hunt next week.

The test car is equipped as a virtual wireless laboratory and is one of the few mobile radio stations in the nation. Its arrival has been awaited for several months and Supervisor Linden and Inspector Lovejoy are eager to put it to its intended purpose. The car is equipped to measure the frequency and power of any station within a radius of several miles, and through a direction finder.

While en route to Southern California the party will consider prospective sites for several permanent frequency-measuring stations.

BY BOB RAY

After being squelched by a 4-to-3 loss at the hands of Ed Bryan in the first game, Marty Krug's ambitious Angels manhandled the Seattle Indians, 7 to 2, in the nightcap to get an even break in yesterday's bargain bill at Wrigley Field. Bob Osborn, who came to the Angels from the Cubs as part payment for Ray Jacobs, let the Tribe down with four hits in the seventh inning afterpiece. The Angels made it easy for him to win by bunting his way around and fifth rounder for all of their runs. It was the first time that Osborn has started and since he joined the Cher-

STAN CHECKS BALLIES

In the opener the Angels came up with numerous chances to score, but Stan Bryan clocked off their rallies with some nifty pitching in the first. However, the Angels' lack of ground work, as much as Stan's pitching, had the bases filled but none out but were only able to score one run. Again in the sixth the first two men up got on, but one run was all that Bryan wanted to stem the Home Guard's attack. Thomas Pitt and Wilbur Peters were the hurting burden for the Angels in the finale and yielded a total of nine hits. However, the Indians played heads up baseball on

PHIL FLOTO KNOCKS OUT JACK LEE IN THIRD ROUND

Phil Floto, Windy Winder's latest protegee, scored a knockout in the third round over Jack Lee last night at the Hollywood American Legion.

Floto scored a knockdown in the second round for the count of nine with a right to the jaw.

Last night's battle was Floto's first fight here and he made a very good showing.

Winder's fighter looked like the money and seems to be all he is cracked up to be.

Phil's rights to Lee's face were his best bet. Floto hit Lee once in the second round square on the jaw, but only spun him around, the knockdown for the nine count coming later in that round.

Billy Hart and Bobby Herman fought six slashing rounds to a draw in the semi-wind-up. Herman grabbed the nod the last time these two met, so last night's encounter almost evened the count between them.

In the six-round special event Johnny Cruz upset the dope and took the decision from Dick Lapan. Phil Blood won four rounds from Frank Fuentes and Jack O'Brien, subbing for Herb Green, got a draw with Earl Farmer in the opening bout.

How to Get Rich Quick
Go to an astrologer. Tell him you are a dissatisfied plumber and that you want to do what you are best fitted for. Astrologer will consult the stars and tell you to study music.
Go to the palmist and tell him that you have been advised to study music. Palmist will look at your hands and tell you not to make a great mistake. You learn you will make a talented haberdasher.
Go to a graphologist and let him study a specimen of your handwriting. Graphologist will tell you that you will find success and happiness as a theater usher.
Go to the phrenologist and let him feel the bumps and bald spots on your head. Phrenologist, if he is a good one, will easily perceive that you will never amount to anything until you have married and settled down.
Take his advice and marry a rich woman.

For the first time since the deepening of production at Signal Hill and its upward climb about five years ago, the output of the field is expected to decline under the present lease agreement. Last week the figures revealed that the production of the entire field to date is more than 208,000 barrels a day, and this number has been made up of 132,000 barrels a day under the lease and 76,000 barrels under the deep pool lease. The decline is expected to be complete in 1934.

The well was deepened from the 2000 ft. to 2304 feet, and is now producing at the rate of 945 barrels a day, according to officials of the company. Gravity of the oil is 42 deg., and when the oil is 4 per cent emulsion clear, the gravity is expected to increase to around 44 deg.

In addition to the oil the Rosemount No. 2 is producing about 1000 cubic feet of saturated gas, with a content of about three and a quarter gallons of casinghead gas per 1000 cubic feet, according to Barnard officials. Pressure on the tubing is about 175

Oil Good Well

The Richfield Oil Company yesterday brought in its Jones No. 1 well in the deep sand at Signal Mountain. The initial production of 20 barrels during one hour of gauging, according to officials of the company, shows the oil is clean, and the pressure was so strong that they found it impossible to bring the well in properly, and had to let it flow through the drill pipe.

Many of the most prominent corporations in the country are on the list. So they realize that they have been giving offenders against good taste in advertising and seem willing to reform. They say that hereafter they will restrict their billboard advertising to "commercial districts" of cities, and no longer obstruct the traveler's view of scenery along the highways.

This is good news to the motorist who, generally speaking, does not care for the purpose of receiving instruction as to the merits of pink or particular brands of pickles, tonic or hams.

HARD TO SUIT

While the California date industry has been of rather slow growth, owing to the time required for the development of the plants into trees, it soon will become an important one. There are about 50,000 date palms in the Coachella Valley and many others in Imperial. Experimental plantings are to be made in San Diego county, the northeast corner of which is said to be ideal for date culture.

Date palms were first imported to the Coachella Valley from Africa in 1902, and the first commercial shipment of considerable quantity was made four

Four youths were seriously burned and mangled, one perhaps fatally, yesterday as the result of the explosion of a key of high explosive that they had found in the powder house at Ross field near Arcadia.

The youths, all grammar-school students, are: Jack Carter, Walter Kimmel, Bruce Moore and Robert Johnson. All reside in Arcadia.

The boys broke into the powder house at the field, according to deputy sheriff's reports, and carried the key to a point on the Santa Fe Railroad track about a half mile from the field.

They poured the powder in small portions so that it would not explode, but unfortunately arranged the piles near the railroad tracks. The Johnson youth, standing nearest the key, was seriously burned, suffering first, second and third-degree burns over the entire body.

The other three boys, not so badly burned, were injured by flying portions of the key. They notified the Arcadia police who had the Johnson boy removed to the Monterey Hospital.

The powder had been stored in a small building at the rear of the hangars at Ross field.

Police gave the addresses of the boys as follows: Bruce Moore, 13 years of age, 534 Fairview avenue; Jack Carter, 14, 454 Le Roy street; Robert Johnson, 12, 531 Fairview avenue, and Walter Kimmel, 12, Second avenue.

U.C.L.A. CONFERS DEGREES

More Than 10,000 See 750 Receive Sheepskins at Graduation Exercises in Bowl

Commencement week at the University of California at Los Angeles was brought to a climax last night at Hollywood Bowl when the degrees, honors, diplomas and awards were conferred on the 750 members of the class of 1928 at the ninth annual graduation program, by Dr. Ernest C. Moore, director of the institution.

Hundreds of spectators, augmenting the 10,000 already seated, were pouring into the vast amphitheater, as the members of the class in cap and gown left their station in the rear of the assemblage and in two lines slowly filed down the center aisle of the bowl to their seats on the stage, as the processional march was played by the U.C.L.A. orchestra.

FOLLOWED BY FACULTY
The graduates were followed by members of the faculty wearing robes and hoods of their rank, who took their places on the right and left of the platform in front of the row after row of members of the senior class.

The commencement program was opened with the singing of "America" by the audience, followed by prayer offered by Rev. Arthur Braden, president of California Christian College.

Four graduates then gave their addresses. Doris Isabella Wetzel, A. B. college of letters and science, followed by Roy Quinlan, B. S. Ed. Teachers' College, with "Robots or Men?"

The commencement address to the graduates on "The Science of Living" was then delivered by Baldwin Munger Woods, dean of the University of California.

The address was followed by the conferring of the degrees and honors by Dr. Ernest C. Moore, director of the institution.

SPARKLE OF YOUTH IN 'TEEN' FILM

Many Laughs Provided by Picturized Hero of Popular Newspaper Comic Strip

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

They must have almost robbed the cradle to get the full and complete company that plays in "Harold Teen" this week at Loew's State Theatre. In any case, this is the super-feature of youth. Mervyn Leroy directed the picture, and it is good for a laugh four-fifths, if not quite nine-tenths of the time.

"Harold Teen" is based on the comic strip by Carl Ed. It is among the most exuberant film affairs that I have seen lately. Full of life, it comprises the adventures of a popular newspaper sketch character, who is a perfectly nice boy for all that he wears bell-shaped trousers and drives a Ford that rattles and that is marked up with every sign in the world.

Arthur Lake impersonates this character. Maybe he isn't Harold Teen to the life, but he is a personality just the same—a bit of a goody, eccentric type, but unusually ingratiating both despite and because of it.

Then there are Lillians, sweetly portrayed by Mary Brian, Giggles Dewberry, the high school vamp, done to the twitter of an eyelash by clever Alice White, and two fine comedy providers offered by Lucien Littlefield and Jack Duffy. Outside of these last two the cast is mostly young—including Jack Egan, as a professor, the high school teacher, Ben Hall as the kind of person who is so simple "that he goes up on the stage when a magician calls for people out of the audience."

There are plenty of good subtitles embodying a lot of amusing sophomoric slang. One can increase his vocabulary considerably by reading them. Tom Geraghty scenarized the picture.

Harold's inauguration of the "rednecking sundae" is one of the most amusing scenes. There is a surmise on a movie that has great high spots. And the football game finish is pepped up with capital comedy.

"Harold Teen" will have an especial appeal to the more youthful slingshot, but it will also be liked by many adults. It isn't anything but the lightest sort of froth, a bit of a "kiss" picture, but pretty entertaining all the way through.

And it is so long since there has been a good film centering around the "teen" age, that it is mentioned it seems perhaps even doubly good on this account.

"Spangles" glories in radiant costumes and tasteful settings, the first number being a dancier. Some excellent dancing numbers, both classical and a mode, and travesty are included.
